

Bangor School Board Votes To Bar Nearby Borough's Ninth Graders Next Fall

Bangor — Borough school board voted five to two last night to bar East Bangor ninth graders beginning with the Fall school term.

Tenth, eleventh and twelfth graders from the East Bangor area will be allowed to remain in the Bangor school. No new students will be taken.

The board's action—according to its own resolution—was taken because of East Bangor board's announced opposition to jointure with Bangor or Roseto. East Bangor favors a jointure of its district with Washington, Upper and Lower Mount Bethel and possibly Portland areas.

Two Bangor board members who voted against the measure last night indicated they felt the action was "unfair."

The motion to bar East Bangor ninth grade tuition students—because of "overcrowded conditions in Bangor schools"—was originally made by Bangor director David Stoddard.

Stoddard had previously indicated that such action might become necessary. In his initial motion, Stoddard asked the board to deny admission to all East Bangor students.

This motion was opposed by board member Quintus LaBar. LaBar asked that the motion be amended to include only new students who would be entering the ninth grade at Bangor this Fall.

The board voted on the LaBar version of the Stoddard motion. LaBar, Stoddard, president Merle Mabus, Phillip Keenan and Cornell Wallwork, a newly-installed member, voted in favor of the motion.

The move was opposed by board members Marvin DePamphilis and Dr. Nicholas Cascario. Both said they voted against it because it was "unfair to take it out on children because of some action by the East Bangor board."

Board members favoring the motion said that a review of the situation might be in order if East Bangor board decided to "change its attitude" toward jointure before September.

Only between eight and ten children would be affected by the motion. This is the approximate number of new East Bangor ninth graders the Bangor school would be required to house.

Not affected by the motion: 23 East Bangor children in grades 10, 11 and 12 in the Bangor school.

Bangor board also voted to "wipe the slate clean" so far as jointures are concerned. The board said it is "willing to sit down and talk jointure" with Washington Township, Roseto or any other board which requests such a meeting in writing.

The date for such a meeting would be set by "mutual agreement", the Bangor board said.

Merle Mabus, board president, said that Edward Capinogro, president of Roseto board had told him that "Roseto is willing to go along with Bangor" on whatever Bangor feels is proper.

Senate Passes Billion Dollar Highway Bill

Washington (AP)—The Senate yesterday approved a bill to provide a billion dollars a year for highway construction for two years. The action sent the measure to a conference with the House, which voted 125 millions a year less.

Passage was by voice vote, following a defeat of an amendment by Sen. Chavez (D-N.M.) to strip the measure of a new method of allocating part of the funds on the basis of state population. The vote was 44-37.

The Senate elected to retain the disputed section approved by its Public Works Committee. Under that section 19 of the more populous states would get a bigger share of the federal funds than they do now.

Five Tornadoes Rip Parts Of Three States

By The Associated Press

At least five tornadoes ripped into parts of Illinois, Wisconsin and Michigan yesterday.

One person was killed and a dozen injured in Illinois. Several were injured when a small twister dipped into Swart Creek, near Flint, Mich.

Scores of farm homes were damaged or destroyed, communications torn down and other property damaged.

Five communities in northeastern Illinois were hit by the twister. Mrs. George Barkley, about 35, was killed when a wood plank was driven through her body. The twister destroyed her home north of Kankakee.

Estranged Mate Sought In Slaying

Kurusu, Former Diplomat, Dies

Tokyo (AP)—Death yesterday claimed Saburo Kurusu, the smiling little diplomat who was negotiating in Washington when the Japanese struck at Pearl Harbor. He was 68.

Married to an American, the former Alice Little of New York City, Kurusu had two daughters who married U. S. officers. He had two sons, one of whom died as a Kamikaze (suicide) pilot during the war.

Lenten Meditation

We suggest "evangelism" as our chief emphasis for Lent, 1954. Evangelism is simply testifying to Jesus Christ by profession and action.

It is not unusual for us to indulge in a good deal of self-deception about "self-denial" in petty matters; instead of that, how would this plan be for the observance of Lent: Each one sit down quietly and alone, and ask ourselves, "Who are there among my family and friends who seem to have grown indifferent to Christ?—Who used to come to church, but whom I never see in church any more?—Why can't I do something about getting them back to church again?"

Names will come to mind. Don't mention them to anyone EXCEPT TO GOD. Just pray that God would show you a way to do something that would help to lead them back to Christ and His church again.

Then WAIT PRAYERFULLY. And, when God shows you the open door, act promptly with faith and with courage. If each of us would only be an evangelist like that, we would be making the sacrifice that pleases Christ best, a "living sacrifice," which is our "reasonable service" (Romans 12:1).

Counsel Named In McCarthy-Army Row

By Wilmot Hercher

Washington (AP)—Ray H. Jenkins, a Tennessee lawyer and gentleman farmer, was chosen yesterday as the man to get to the bottom of the bitter row between Sen. Joseph McCarthy (R-Wis) and high Army officials.

His appointment as special counsel for the Senate Investigations subcommittee was announced by Acting Chairman Mundt (R-SD), who also said hearings in the controversial case will begin April 21.

Jenkins, 57, is one of the leading trial lawyers of Knoxville, Tenn. He is a Republican, an Episcopalian and farms as a hobby.

Interviewed by reporters on Capitol Hill, Jenkins stated he is "quite positive" that he is not prejudiced one way or the other regarding McCarthy. Asked if he would care to state his opinion of the Wisconsin senator, the lawyer replied:

"My opinion of Senator McCarthy would not constitute any news. It would be improper for me to express an opinion."

"I have no record publicly or otherwise as to Senator McCarthy or what has come to be known as McCarthyism," he continued.

In reply to another question, Jenkins said he did not think it would be proper for him to try to state at this time precisely what issues he thought were involved in the McCarthy-Army feud.

A reporter told Mundt that on the day set for the start of the hearings McCarthy is scheduled to speak at Houston, Tex., in connection with San Jacinto Day festivities.

Mundt said he had not been aware of that, but that April 21 was the day agreed upon for the opening session. He added that McCarthy had not been consulted about the date nor about Jenkins' selection.

Jenkins, a heavy-set, sandy-haired man with a calm demeanor, pledged himself to handle the big investigation with "no prejudice, no bias."

He succeeds Samuel B. Sears as the subcommittee's special counsel and will be in charge of the machinery of the probe.

Sears, a prominent Boston attorney, withdrew as counsel Tuesday, after his impartiality had been challenged. He acknowledged that he had praised McCarthy's work in the past, but insisted that he could have conducted a fair investigation.

He bowed out "in the public interest," he said, so there would be no question about the impartiality of the proceedings.

Jenkins told a news conference that he would be willing to tackle the job with the understanding that he will "present the facts without any favoritism, in as fair and impartial a manner as I know how."

"I have no prejudice, no bias," he reiterated. "My mind is completely open."

The hearings will be open to the public and will be broadcast by radio and television. Mundt reported the subcommittee had adopted unanimously a resolution providing that the networks covering the hearings would not be permitted to do so under commercial sponsorship.

The subcommittee intends to probe under Jenkins' guidance.

One—Charges by the Army secretary that McCarthy and Roy Cohn, the subcommittee's regular counsel, exerted pressure to get favored treatment for drafted G. David Schine, a friend of Cohn's and former consultant on the subcommittee staff.

Two—Countercharges that Secretary of the Army Stevens and John G. Adams, Army general counsel, were holding Schine in "hostage" while they tried to divert McCarthy's investigations of alleged "Communist coddling" in the Army to other branches of the military service.

New York Hiker Passes Through Poconos; Hopes To Reach San Francisco By Christmas

There's a long, long trail ahead of John F. Frey before the 60-year-old New Yorker's dream come true. Frey paused momentarily along Route 611 between Stroudsburg and Bartonsville yesterday morning to tell a Daily Record reporter he'll be in San Francisco, Calif., by Christmas Day—walking every inch of the 3,200 miles.

For Frey and others he meets along the way this walkathon is a big deal, even bigger than the 1,600 miles he covered years ago in Switzerland in his yodeling excursion over the Alps and through winding, twisting dirt roads.

On this current trip Frey is taking the main arteries and has pushed a lot of concrete since leaving 42nd and Fifth Ave., in New York last Thursday — April 1.

With the backing of the New York Times, John has no fear of what's ahead. The newspaper, he says, has promised to help him in his journey by assisting whenever he's stuck for food or shelter.

Walkin' John stopped in Delaware Water Gap at sundown Tuesday, then started at 7 a.m. on his way to Scranton. He expects to cover from 15 to 20 miles daily, and pledges "Sunday is a day of rest."

The Swiss native is prepared for everything, and totes all his necessities in a 31-pound pack slung across his back. Attached to the knapsack is a sign "Please, no lift."

Walking—New York to Frisco." The stone-footed gent has his walking schedule figured this way: At the height of Summer when the sun is highest, he'll take off for his day's trek at earlier hours. This month he leaves his overnight lodging at 6 a.m. In May it'll be 5 a.m.; June and July, 4 a.m.; August, 6 a.m., and then an hour later as Winter approaches.

From Scranton, John heads for Erie where he'll pick up his laundry—another deal he's arranged with Long Island, N. Y., friends. Frey figures on sending his soiled clothing to Long Island where they'll be laundered, then shipped back to John at a given point somewhere in the vicinity of his next stop.

Most of his mail is being forwarded to his only daughter, Jerry

W. Frey at 223 B St., Lincoln, Neb. Mr. Frey's wife came here with John shortly after their marriage in the mid 1920s, but had to return to Switzerland because the U. S. didn't agree, John says. In the Alps, Mrs. Frey has a book store.

Frey was born in Switzerland in 1884, and came to the U. S. in 1919. A year later he joined the U. S. Army in Denver, Colo., later worked as a surveyor in Northern California and Florida. His grandfather was one of Nebraska's first settlers, and his daughter, unmarried, is a former legislator of that state.

John has a pair of specially made shoes for his achin' feet.

John Frey pauses momentarily on his hike from New York to San Francisco, Calif., long enough to tell Daily Record reporter he'll be in California Christmas Day. This photo was snapped on Route 611 between Stroudsburg and Bartonsville.

$70,000 Street Program Given Council Okay

A gigantic $70,000 street improvement and drainage program to be completed in one year of working days was approved last night by Stroudsburg Council.

At the same time council authorized its solicitor, Attorney George T. Robinson to proceed with all details necessary to float a bond issue to cover the cost of the several projects.

Availability of labor, the very attractive money market with lowest interest rates in many years, the fact the project will in one effort accomplish better than five years of pressing improvements were among the principal factors in approving the plan.

Other very important factors were: Studies reveal that pressing projects which need prompt improvements cannot be done on a year-to-year basis without raising taxes. Taken into consideration was the fact that this year the County of Monroe failed to give the borough any gasoline tax monies and cut their appropriation in previous years from amounts allotted by former boards.

The proposed $70,000 issue can, it was determined, be amortized safely without raising taxes and still leave a balance sufficient to meet various smaller projects on a year-to-year basis, council determined.

Edward C. Hess, engineer who prepared the estimates as they would probably come out on a contractor's bid, advised council that by purchasing some equipment, obtaining a construction foreman and recruiting a separate crew, he could have the contractor's profit for the borough.

This, he said, would be about 20 per cent of his estimate of $79,751. Out of that 20 per cent he would obtain necessary equipment. That will leave an estimated $70,000 expenditure.

These are the projects which council decided to include in the big program:

Drainage and resurfacing of Quaker Alley; oil and shale all streets torn up by sewer installations in the Fourth Ward; complete construction work on Bell Terrace and Scott St.; install two shuffleboard and a basketball court at the playground; install drainage, curb and gutter and rebuild Oak St. from Queen to end of existing paved near Fifth St., three blocks.

Also install drainage in South Stroudsburg, involving Houston, Collins and Colbert; curb and gutter and surface the streets, resurface Sarah St. from Fourth to Kane and Third with drainage on the Kane St. end; rebuild Wallace St. from Thomas to Scott with curb and gutter; install a storm sewer in the Wallace-Brown St. area; rebuild Stone St. with curb and gutter between Scott and Thomas.

Summer T. Pike, a member of the Atomic Energy Commission at the time, said McCarthy didn't know what he was talking about and that all he was doing was "throwing mud."

In Washington, Chairman Cole (R-N.Y.) of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said the United States took "a long time" (four months late in 1949) in deciding to go ahead with the atom bomb production.

In Washington, Chairman Cole (R-N.Y.) of the Senate-House Atomic Energy Committee said the United States took "a long time" (four months late in 1949) in deciding to go ahead with the atom bomb production.

He told both a Senate committee and a Republican women's group that although the measure would cut taxes about $1,400,000 its prime purpose is to bring up to date tax laws which the country long since has outgrown. The last general revision was in 1976, he said.

Strauss later told a Senate Appropriations subcommittee that "greatly increased production of thermonuclear weapons" will help AEC operating costs up $427,400,000—$1,262,000,000—for the year starting July 1.

"Virtually the entire increase occurs in the cost of procuring uranium and of producing weapons and weapons materials," he said in a statement released after the closed session.

Humphrey was the first witness as the Senate Finance Committee opened three weeks of hearings on the 875-page bill already passed by the House.

Hess To Survey Possible All-Day Parking Centers

A survey of portions of lots to the rear of business houses and other properties in the heart of the Stroudsburg shopping district was ordered last night by Stroudsburg Council with the idea of turning them into metered all-day parking lots.

At the same time council decided to utilize the services of Roy Riegelmeir of Riegelmeir Traffic Service, Harrisburg, to assist the borough with its program for obtaining at least temporary relief this summer from swollen traffic arteries.

Riegelmeir has had lengthy experience with Pennsylvania Department of Highways traffic safety and study matters. He served as traffic engineer for the State Highway Department.

Since that time he has been engaged in the business of engineer, selling and installing traffic signs and signals for boroughs and cities throughout Pennsylvania.

Mr. Riegelmeir is already quite familiar with the Stroudsburg traffic and parking situation.

The all-day parking centers, a number of which have been under study by council and its engineer for some time, will be surveyed first for number of cars they will accommodate.

Owners of the properties involved will be determined.

Cost of removal of fences, and other obstructions, together with cost of improving the areas for parking facilities, will be determined.

After Engineer Edward C. Hess has acquired these facts, council will apply the cost factors to their traffic studies and come up with the answer as to whether the installation is sound.

The club filed these recommendations with each member of council and Burgess Hal H. Harris. It further advised J. E. Johnson, AAA traffic expert, would be available to review whatever traffic and parking proposals council obtains either by themselves or from a consultant. Johnson, however, is not available for detailed investigation of traffic problems.

Cresco — Pre-school registration and tests will be given for Barrett and Paradise Township children at Barrett school on May 6 and 7.

According to Supervising Principal Andrew W. Lewis, all children who will be six years of age before Feb. 1, 1955, are eligible for entrance in first grade at the schools.

Parents are requested to accompany children. A birth certificate and vaccination chart are necessary for registration, Lewis said.

Hours for the registration and examinations will be 9 a.m. to noon and 1 p.m. to 3 p.m. on Thursday, May 6; 9 a.m. to noon on Friday, May 7.

Physical examinations will be given by a physician, a dentist and a nurse. In addition an examination will be given by Bennett Strait, supervisor of special education for Monroe County.

It is important, Lewis said, that all parents of eligible children contact the school as soon as possible so that a time schedule may be set up. School authorities must know the number of children eligible for entrance into first grade before the end of the present school year, Lewis said.

Maps For Proposed Road Relocation Filed With Recorder

Construction To Cover Part Of Route 940

Maps for construction and relocation of the highway through Pocono Pines and Beacon Lake are now on file at the county recorder's office.

The route is Legislative Route 169 in the State highway system. It is known, generally, as Traffic Route 940.

Route 940 runs beyond county borders into Carbon County. It begins at Swiftwater, runs through Pocono Pines to Blakeslee Corner and beyond the county line.

The maps show only a portion of the projected plan to re-route the road. That portion shown extends from the Pocono Pines junction to a point 2.4 miles from "Wagners."

Listed on the maps are the lands through which the relocated road will pass and buildings which will be "removed or altered" to make way for the work.

The only buildings identified by a "C" within a square—the symbol for removal or alteration—are five frame buildings located in an abandoned railway bed at Pocono Pines.

All five of the buildings are owned by Daniel F. Mulligan. Mulligan is owner of the Pocono Lake Hotel at Pocono Pines.

The five buildings listed by State Highway engineers on their construction map are the following: three frame houses; a frame garage and a frame "stand".

An explanation of procedure to be used in condemnation of the buildings is contained on the map. The explanation says they are to be removed or altered by the authority responsible for the payment of property damages.

Such work, the map says, is not part of this project.

Under the construction plan shown on the maps the relocated route will pass through lands owned by Mulligan, the Blanche D. Price estate and, apparently, land owned by Bessie A. and Charles Kinsley.

The map begins at a point 2.4 miles from Wagners. Construction to be done on the route will apparently follow the present roadway from this point to the approximate beginning of the old railway bed.

On this part of the highway, which follows the present route, the road passes by, but does not expand into the lands of the following residents:

Beginning at the point south-east of Wagners the road passes by the properties of Frederick Harrold, Mrs. Anna Wilson, Elizabeth B. Ley, James Hoffman, Elwood Christman, Dr. Paul Steiner, Joseph Lewis, James Martin, Tobyhanna Township Fire Co. and Russell R. Miller.

In all cases properties are listed by opposite locations, in turn. Example: The Harrold property lies across the road from the land owned by Mrs. Anna Wilson, according to the map.

The roadway then passes by a larger property owned by Joseph Lewis on one side of the road (south) with the Wavie Opie, Mrs. R. N. Lindabury, Joseph Guyer, Francis L. Christman properties across the road on the north.

At the intersection of Tamarack Ave.—a macadam street—the road passes by a portion of property owned by Mulligan on the north and two properties owned by Clarence A. Majer and Edward T. May.

At a point approximately even with the middle of a tract of land owned by Clarence A. and Carl Majer, the proposed route will veer off the present roadway.

Total divergence from the present route will be only about 15 to 20 feet. From this point it moves through the abandoned railroad bed where the frame houses now stand.

Land lying in back of (to the south of) the railroad bed belongs to the estate of Masie Altemose. None of the Altemose estate land will apparently be touched by the new route, however, according to the map.

The proposed route then continues south of the present route 169 (940) past the intersection of that route and Route 490.

78 Children, Three Adults Treated At Orthopedic Clinic

Three adults and 78 children received attention during the all-day orthopedic clinic in the General Hospital, East Stroudsburg, yesterday.

Dr. Richard White of Allentown conducted the diagnostic work, assisted by a large staff of nurses and representatives from Monroe County Crippled Children's Society and the State Department of Health.

Effort—Harvey Batchler, about 65, who lives at the Howard Durshimer residence here, was reportedly knocked down by a car about 8 p.m. yesterday. He escaped with only a bruise.

The accident reportedly occurred on Route 115 near the Effort Hotel while Batchler was walking near his home. Batchler received preliminary assistance from Dr. Thomas Williams, Gilbert, then was checked at East Stroudsburg General Hospital. He was discharged after an examination.

Three major losses during the year were a barn on the Earl Singer property, Reeds; a barn at Camp Tanalo, Cherry Lane and the home of Willy Otto in Tannersville.

Losses, including contests, were set at approximately $49,150, Chief Metzger said. It is estimated that another $50,000 in property was saved by the quick action of firemen according to report.

Ten of the calls were made out of Pocono Township, Chief Metzger reported. Six were in Jackson Township and one each in Mount Pocono, Stroud and Hamilton Townships.

In the 12 months 2,700 feet of 1½-inch hose and 2,700-feet of 1½-inch hose were used. About 120,000 gallons of water was pumped during the blazes, Chief Metzger announced.

Officers were elected and committee reports made at the annual session.

William Raish, Tannersville, was elected president; Richard Howell, vice president; Charles Van Sciver, reelected recording secretary; William Anglemeyer reelected financial secretary; John R. Smith reelected treasurer.

Edward F. Metzger was named chief, to serve his 14th consecutive term.

Other line officers are: Horace Raish, assistant chief; John Smiley, second assistant chief; Fred Metzger, engineer, all reelected.

Ira Hay and Charles Brader were named trustees. Brader was named delegate to the four-county convention, and Henry McCool was named alternate delegate.

The carnival grounds have been enlarged by diverting the creek, it was reported.

Children Testify At Fire Probe

Buffalo, N. Y. (AP)—Three youngsters who survived the Cleveland Hill elementary school annex fire testified yesterday before a grand jury investigating the blaze that claimed 14 lives.

Details of the testimony offered by Joey Magistrale, Richard Holt and Allan De Forest, all 11, were not revealed.

But the three had told newsmen previously how the fire swept into the sixth grade music class "like a flamethrower" last Wednesday morning. The three boys escaped through windows in the one-story, frame annex.

Three other boys remained in critical condition with burns.

It indicates, however, that Route 169 (940) will continue in a nearly straight line from the junction. At present the route makes a 45-degree turn at the junction point.

Fire Company Authorizes Truck Purchase

Tannersville — Purchase of a new combination ladder and pump truck was authorized at last night's annual fire company meeting here.

This type of equipment usually sells for between $10,000 and $15,000. Part of the necessary money has been raised by efforts of the Pocono Township Volunteer Fire Co. already, it was reported, but more cash will have to be added to make up the purchase price.

Specifications for the new truck will be worked out by the purchasing committee.

A feature of the annual meeting was the yearly round-up of dues.

Brush fires were responsible for 20 of the 34 calls for 12 months ending April 1, Edward F. Metzger, fire chief reported.

Other fire causes were eight buildings, two by rubbish, two automobiles and two chimney fires. A total of 620 men responded, spending 897½ hours and traveling 15½ miles, Metzger said.

Three major losses during the year were a barn on the Earl Singer property, Reeds; a barn at Camp Tanalo, Cherry Lane and the home of Willy Otto in Tannersville.

Band To Mark Anniversary At Concert

East Stroudsburg school band celebrates its 20th anniversary Friday.

When the curtain rises at 8 p.m. in the East Stroudsburg Junior High School auditorium both band music and director Clement Wiedmeyer will be marking a special occasion.

It was in 1934 that the first bongous school band was formed. The director was the same man who now directs the organization - Wiedmeyer.

In those early 1934 days, Elmer Kuntz was the supervising principal of bongous schools. Carl T. Secor - now occupying the Kuntz position - was high school principal. Heading the junior high was Irving Wiedmeyer.

Throughout that first year, Wiedmeyer concentrated on bringing out the individual talents of his instrumentalists, then combining these talents into a smooth-working whole.

When the date arrived for the first concert the band was to give, there were 36 members.

Today the band has a personnel of 75 members including clarinets, flutes, piccolos, oboes, bassoons, bass clarinets, French horns, tympani and other instruments.

In 1940 the band made its first surge into the high brackets in State music competition. In contests with bands from all over the State, the East Stroudsburg band came back home with a first place.

In 1941 the band did not compete. Then, in 1942, it again won first in the State.

Wartime transportation curtailments cut out State contests in 1943, 1944 and 1945. In 1946, the East bongous band went back to the State contest; won only a third place.

The following year it bounced back to the top with a first place rating. In 1948 State music contest officials stopped using the "first, second, third" style in judging.

The East Stroudsburg band received "superior" ratings for highest achievement - in both 1948 and 1949. It got an "excellent" in 1950.

During the past three years, the East Stroudsburg band has not competed in State contests.

Since the band's inception music has actually become a long-range project in East Stroudsburg schools. Today, children begin learning about music in the fifth grade.

They are given the fundamentals of music while studying the bongous, a melody instrument which is easily played, portable, easy to understand. When the pupil enters sixth grade, if he shows interest and ability, he is transferred to instruction in a standard band instrument.

In junior high school, these lessons are continued. The student becomes a member of the Junior Band.

This organization is used primarily as a training ground for membership in the larger, more complex Senior Band. The smaller group gives its own share of the annual concert these days, however. It will occupy the first section of Friday night's program.

Once he becomes a member of the Senior Band, the student rehearses regularly, three times each week, with the entire group. An additional day is devoted to "sectional" rehearsal in which the student rehearses only with instruments in the section to which he is assigned.

During its 20 years of existence, the band has attracted a number of well-known guest conductors. These directors appear only as part of the annual concert given by the band.

Among the guest conductors have been Col. George Howard, present conductor of the U. S. Air Force Band; Capt. Taylor Branson, leader of the U. S. Marine Corps band, now retired; Giuseppe Cretatore, leader of the Cretatore Band, popular during the time of John Phillip Sousa.

Others have been Louis Werssen, director of music in Philadelphia schools; Frank Simon, conductor of the Armon Steel Band and Andrew Weingartner, then conductor of the Bethlehem Steel Band.

This year's guest conductor will be Maurice Taylor, director of music in Monroeville Schools, Taylor is co-author, with Wiedmeyer, of a book on melody instrument techniques which is now in wide use throughout the nation.

THOMAS ALVA EDISON

EDISON NATIONAL PARK - INTERSTATE NEW JERSEY AND PENNSYLVANIA

EDISON NATIONAL MONUMENT

"Along the Appalachian Trail"

BLUE RIDGE MTS. — POCONO MTS. — KITTATINNY MTS.

(Regarding the writer's Proposal for establishment of the EDISON NATIONAL PARK-Interstate and EDISON NATIONAL MONUMENT at the nationally famous Delaware Water Gap, New Jersey-Pennsylvania, following are his opinions as to the great need, and benefits which will be derived)—

It preserves the states and national, natural resources of the Delaware River Basin—soil, forests and water.

It provides for strategic military services, and an evacuation area (if necessary), in relation to our National Defense, in the tri-state area of New York, New Jersey and Pennsylvania.

Will further greatly develop the well established mountain resort recreational area along the Delaware River, and in the Blue Ridge, Pocono and Kittatinny mountain ranges, and adjacent areas.

The Park facilities would afford splendid development of educational and entertainment programs through the media of Radio and Television broadcasts from the Park Amphitheatre, Auditorium, Stadium, Museums, Zoo, etc., for national and international broadcasts and relays.

It has a great wealth of scientific quality—geological, botanical, archaeological, historical—in the Delaware Water Gap area and surrounding territory, which has for over 75 years drawn national-wide attention through the media of text books, of educational and scientific institutions, and explorations by a great many Eastern colleges, classes of scientific field trips for making their studies in this particular area. Numbered among these colleges and universities are—Columbia University, New York; Princeton University, New Jersey; Pennsylvania University, Pennsylvania; Bryn Mawr College, Pennsylvania, etc., etc.

This national scenic attraction—Delaware Water Gap—is advertised by the Lehigh Valley Railroad as its major scenic attraction on its main line, and for a period of over 75 years. State and local Chambers of Commerce; national, state and local Automobile Clubs, Hotel Associations; Resort and Travel Associations; Service Clubs; Business, Historical, and other community organizations; have advertised the Delaware Water Gap—and the surrounding Blue Ridge, Pocono and Kittatinny mountains—magnificent, beautiful scenic views, recreational facilities, historical attractions, for a great many years.

For his great service to mankind, it would be established as a long over-due tribute and National Memorial to an illustrious American Pioneer, world-renown, inventor-scientist—Thomas Alva Edison.

The establishment of the EDISON NATIONAL PARK-Interstate and EDISON NATIONAL MONUMENT at Delaware Water Gap, would greatly develop our Federal and State (New Jersey and Pennsylvania) transportation system of highways, airways and railways, and in conformity with our National Defense Program, for the area.

The scenic drive through the Park would be part of a proposed National Defense Highway to extend from Acadia National Park in Maine to the Great Smoky National Park in Tennessee-North Carolina. Also, it could be part of a proposed Inter-Continental, North and South America, (toll) scenic, and defense highway.

The Proposal has the endorsement and active support of many United States Congressmen; State Legislators; Governors; Statesmen; Military Authorities; Educational and Scientific Research Organizations; Interstate Commission on the Delaware River Basin; Forestry Associations; National, State and local Automobile Associations, Hotel Associations; Chamber of Commerce and Labor Organizations; Municipal Authorities; Banking Institutions; Railroad; many prominent business organizations; the Edison Pioneers; and—Mr. American Citizen.

It can be developed as a Pioneers Works program through legislative enactments by both states of New Jersey and Pennsylvania, and the Federal Government.

Arrangements by both the Federal Government and two States are encompassed in the two states of Tennessee and North Carolina in the Great Smokies Mountain National Park—properties acquired by the two states and grant in aid and servicing by the Federal Government—National Park Service. The Park can be easily financed by any 5% of a number of different ways. The Park will be self sustaining and self liquidating by charging a nominal entrance fee (25¢), as is the custom in most of our National Parks. It is estimated the yearly patronage will be about 4,500,000.

"Interstate" signifies national cooperation. "Interstate Commerce Commission" means national interests. Preserving States Rights and Federal Rights in the development of our National and Natural resources is advocated by our President. We have a partnership arrangement in the formation of our country—48 States make up the United States of America!

Walter von Brack
(Member) EDISON PIONEERS

In brief, the establishment of the EDISON NATIONAL PARK-Interstate at the nationally famous Delaware Water Gap, New Jersey Pennsylvania, would be a recreational and economic development of a new and great AMERICAN FRONTIER—in "Delaware Valley—U.S.A."—for the welfare, well being, enjoyment and ownership of all our citizens and for our posterity.

Just Between Us
—By Bobby Westbrook

It was difficult to find anybody who was talking about anything but the weather yesterday. The poor people who had come to town in early morning wearing suits and sweaters and a top-coat were really sweating it out by noon-time.

Around the schools, it looked as if some gigantic Easter bunny had made an early visit with little bright colored mounds marking the place where the children had dumped the jackets their mothers had so carefully buttoned them into a few moments before.

The skipping ropes were going full tilt by noon time and the roller skates were churning around the court house square after school.

The teen-agers who have been bunched like grapes all winter suddenly strung out in long lines of two-by-two's like a procession to the ark.

Television sets were quiet and dark as the families melted out the back door before ever the supper dishes were cleared away.

And nobody seemed to want to be indoors. For a preview of summer it was very satisfactory. But how are we going to get used to the cold again?

Expert Lists Charm Club Chores For Glamor Girls

By Vivian Brown

AP Newsfeatures Beauty Editor
Why not join the "Do It Now Beauty Club"? As a membership of one, your duties will be to do all charm chores the moment they are necessary.

There will be daily, weekly and monthly beauty schedules to live by but it will be worth it, paying off glamor dividends every day. What's more, you'll be on your honor to live by the beauty code you set for yourself.

Every morning start off with a mirror inventory. Look at your hair, eyebrows, skin, hem length, figure. Weigh yourself on the same scale at the same time every day.

Diet to shed that extra pound. Don't postpone it until you are at the poly-poly stage.

Once a week or oftener, check your lingerie for torn seams, straps, hems. Slide fasteners that are stuck should be repaired or replaced.

Don't leave a shampoo until tomorrow, if you need it today. Remove chipped polish completely, and apply new polish only over clean, smooth nails.

Set a time to inspect soles and heels, and for a button sewing bee and a pressing session.

Exercise for spot reducing, and if your posture is faulty, try promptly to correct it.

Have a fitting session, particularly if you've lost or gained weight. Decide whether skirt seams should be let out, jacket buttons moved. Is your bra too tight? Is your girdle too short, pushing waist flesh up into a tire roll?

Then there are those famous firsts to be noticed—gray hairs, eye lines, double chin. Act quickly.

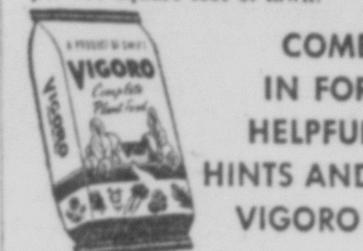

Keep Them Blooming

Freshen your wax flowers by dipping them in alcohol and swabbing them off with a soft, small paint brush.

Let early thaws, spring rains soak it into the soil where the roots are growing now...

Early feeding with New Process Vigoro complete plant food pays off in lawn beauty all summer long. New Process Vigoro goes further—you'll need only 3 lbs. per 100 square feet of lawn.

Charles M. McArdle, son of Mrs. Charles McArdle, 32 Washington St., East Stroudsburg, is home on a 30-day furlough after serving a year with the U. S. Air Force in Africa.

McArdle entered service five years ago. He attended St. Matthew's Parochial School, East Stroudsburg, and was employed by Hughes Printing Co. before enlisting.

After his furlough he will go to an air base in the State of Washington.

McArdle is set to return to the U. S. Air Force in April.

Paris Comes To Main Street

Paris originals, with a value of $10,000, will be shown at the Kiwanis Club Fashion Show to be held on Friday night at 8 at the Stroudsburg High School auditorium for the benefit of the YMCA Building Fund. Represented will be designers such as Jacques Fath, Christian Dior, Schiaparelli, and Carven. Here to comment on the fashion trends for Spring and Summer will be Betty Green, New York fashion expert, who covered the Paris openings for the readers of The Daily Record this year.

For the women who have an extra $10,000 to spend on clothes, and for the women who only wish they had, photographs which Mrs. Green had taken especially for this newspaper are here reproduced together with suggestions as to how the clothes might fit into Monroe County's social life.

Mrs. Green will also comment on the more practical fashions which will form the main portion of the show, and will be able to point out how the high points of the French fashion designers have been incorporated in the inexpensive, every-day wear offered in American stores.

TO THE HOSPITAL'S ANTIQUE SHOW? That's one place that Jacques HEIM'S "Trumpet" silhouette might be worn. It takes its inspiration from the long-waisted look of the '20s. He calls this two piece wool and silk b'end dress, "Charleston." The top buttons down to the "garter tip" from which the pleated skirt flares out youthfully. Waist-length jackets and standaway necklines are also featured in the Heim collection.

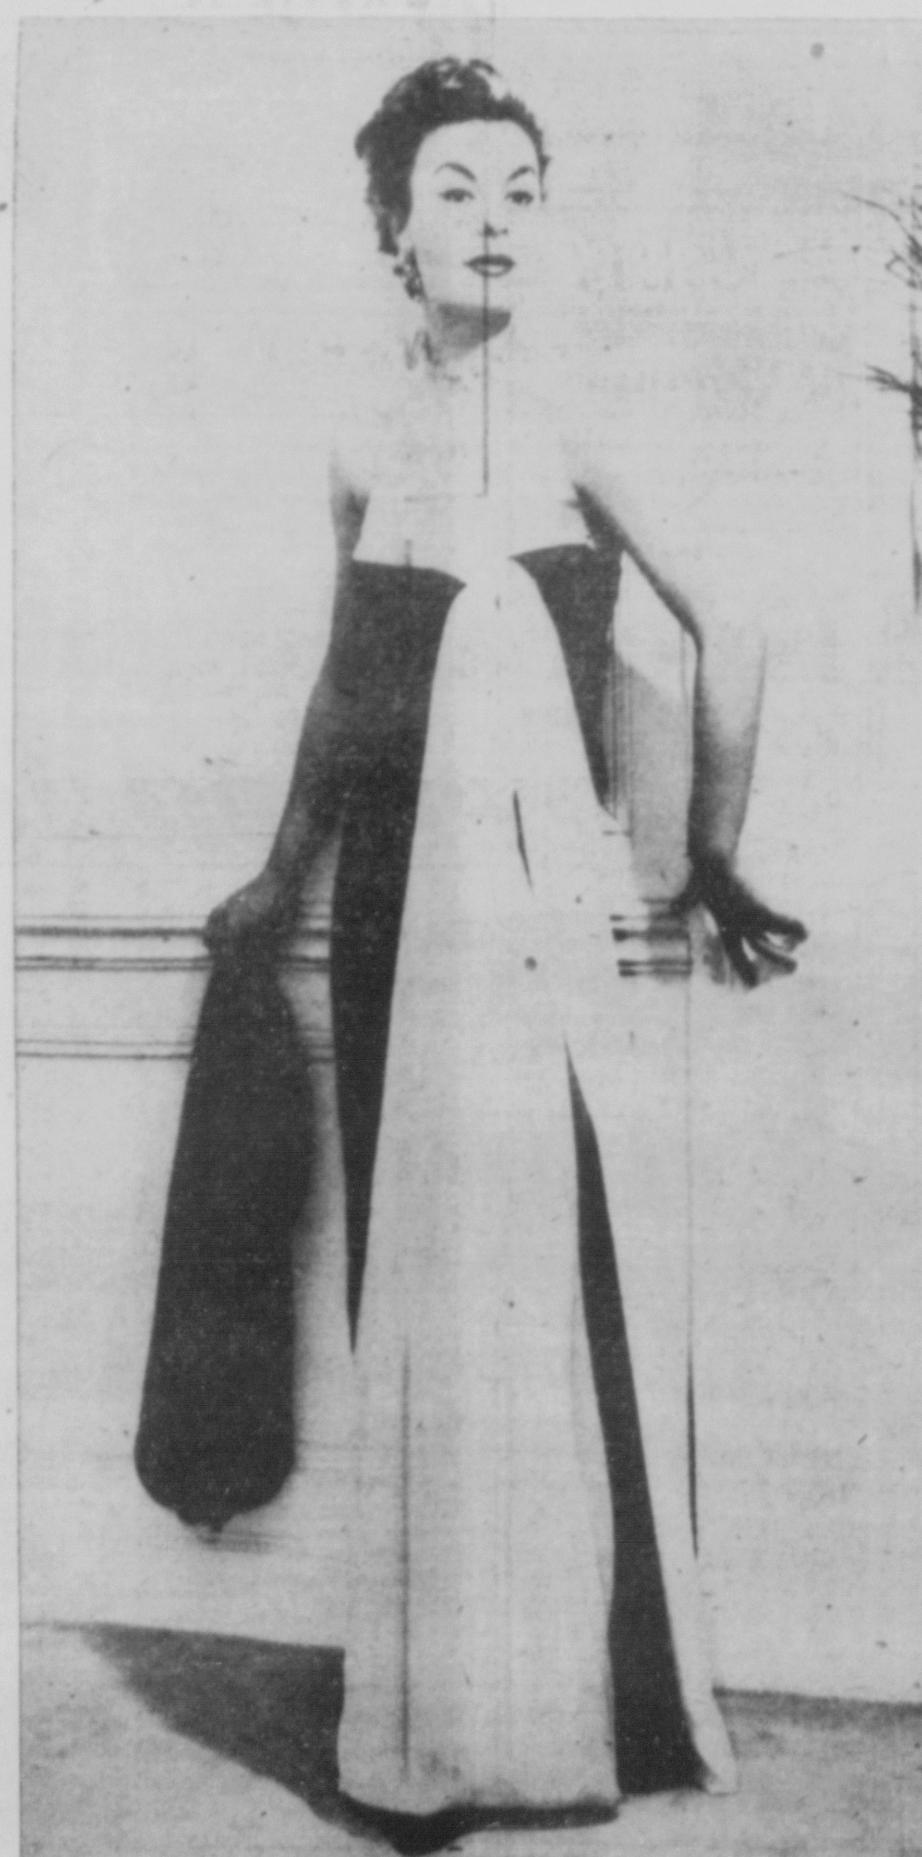

THIS IS BETTY GREEN, who will be fashion commentator for the Kiwanis Fashion Show, photographed with the great French couturier, Jacques Fath, in his Paris Boutique this Spring. Mrs. Green holds in her hands the rhinestone garter clips that made such a hit with lace topped hose at the fabulous Fath opening. Betty Green is fashion director of Independent Retailers Syndicate.

LADY AT THE LAUREL TEA of the Garden Club? Perhaps with a sweater underneath in case it's too cool. This flowered silk print ensemble is by Pierre BALMAIN, and features the contrasting cumberbund midriff that is the Balmain signature this season. The three-quarter length coat is lined with taffeta. Cart-wheel brimmed hats are worn with both tailored and dressy costumes in the Balmain collection.

ANN LOGAN CARD PARTY might be a good destination for this soft and fluttery Christian DIOR silhouette for spring and summer. It is in direct contrast to his stiffened "dome" shapes of last season. The flowered chiffon is all-over pleated with the bloused bodice that Dior highlights this season. The draped neckline ends in a long scarf, and a leather belt cinches the waistline.

L'DIES NIGHT at the service club? Well, you'd be noticed in Jacques FATH'S gown with the Empire silhouette. Here it is expressed in yellow green two-toned chiffon. The bodice ties at the bosom and falls into a hem-length drape. Very Empress Josephine! Fath uses the white organdy ascot flowing to hemlength in his daytime dresses, too. Rather complicated for the super-market.

TO A DOG FIGHT? Most women would say "no" at first glance to BALENCIAGA'S unfitted, too-big look in suits, and yet it has influenced all the couturiers. This checked version buttons down one side with rock candy buttons that are used throughout the collections. Low-cut cardigan necklines and jacket hem pockets are characteristic features.

Speaker Urges Water, Soil Conservation

The value of soil and water conservation and progress in Monroe County was brought to the Stroudsburg Kiwanis Club yesterday afternoon.

Norman Dietrick, head of the department in Monroe County, presented by Dale H. Learn, program chairman, spoke on "The Business Man's Stake in Soil and Water Conservation."

The talk was illustrated by colored slides taken on Monroe County farms which showed improved conditions through proper conservation.

The speaker declared that depicted soil and accelerated erosion had resulted in the downfall of nations.

Over a period of 150 years this nation, despite scientific farming and mechanical devices available, has lost more soil than any nation in history, Dietrick declared.

However, he said, there is a bright side despite the lowered water table, "we have the know-how in this country."

Dietrick said there are 2,500 soil conservation districts in the United States today, Monroe County being one of them.

The slides showed use of strip cultivation, sod coverage of land, draining, diversion planting; also damage from overgrazing and deforestation.

Alan W. Keiper, chairman, reported indications pointed to a large audience at Kiwanis fashion show at Stroudsburg High School auditorium Friday at 8 p.m.

The annual bowling banquet will be held at the Elks Club Tuesday night next at 7.

Kiwanians have been invited to attend the Rotary Club meeting Thursday noon, April 15, at the Penn-Stroud Hotel.

Rev. C. W. Dupee, president, welcomed Walter Kesse of Cranford, N. J., as a guest. He welcomed Eric J. Manahan back after a vacation in Florida.

Dr. Earl Willhause and Numa J. Snyder conducted the song period.

teeting the surface of the soil from the blasting action of the raindrop and the sealing of the pores of the soil.

When this material is plowed or disced into the soil it will not only prevent erosion but also retain run-off and permit more water to soak deeply into the soil.

The drying up of wells and springs in recent years is stark evidence of man's mismanagement of the land. Poor hunting and fishing are listed among the consequences, as is the steady decline in crop yields in spite of modern machinery, commercial fertilizers and improved crop varieties.

Depletion of the organic content or humus in the soil has been responsible for a large percentage of these ills.

Let's use fire with care. Help Keep Pennsylvania Green.

Judge Files Opinion In Damage Suit

A complaint about damages allegedly suffered because of drainage problems at Palmer's Grove, Stroudsburg, was not specific enough, President Judge Fred W. Davis ruled in part yesterday.

Howard R. Palmer, W. Main St. piney grove operator, is plaintiff. He had asked award of damages and a restraining order against both John R. Lesoline and Irving Jolowsky, owners of adjoining business properties.

In the equity action started in 1952, Palmer complained of damages allegedly caused by diversion of water to his property.

In the opinion and order of court filed by Judge Davis yesterday, two of the three objections were dismissed. The first was sustained—and "so much of the complaint as relates to damages is stricken off unless within 20 days . . . plaintiff" sets out more specific damages.

Decision On Edison Park Near, Von Broock Reports

The Edison National Interstate Park—designed as a national monument to Thomas Alva Edison for his great services to mankind—has moved close to the "decision" stage, Walter von Broock, formerly one of the owners of the Penn Stroud Hotel said here this week.

Mr. von Broock, who devoted a great deal of time and energy to highway projects and civic affairs here, supplemented his "decision" forecast with this report:

He will meet within the next ten days with Charles Edison, son of the famous inventor and a former New Jersey governor, on the Edison National Park project. Mr. Edison will be in a series of Washington conferences before he meets Mr. von Broock.

During the next few days every congressman, senator, government official, the Edison Pioneer membership, all governors will receive further information on the Edison National Park project through over 350 letters being mailed out this week.

Creation of such a park-shrine as a recreation and cultural area with educational and entertainment facilities such as park amphitheatre, auditorium, stadium, museums, zoo, etc. for national and international broadcasts, Mr. von Broock said, is still the basic intent.

However, the problems created by explosion of the H-bomb, including its threat to massive centers of population have opened an entirely new "value" area for the Edison National Park, Mr. von Broock said.

The former Stroudsburg resident said he is "more optimistic than ever" that the national park will be created.
